Important Notice
TO Ship Owners.
AMERICAN LLOYDS OFFICE,
Harbor Ship, New York,
Jan. 31, 1871.

The Register for 1871 is now ready. The January Supplements will contain the introduction of a new history of the "Register." In order to supply the demand for this exposition, on extra edition will be printed and furnished gratuitously to all parties in possession of a book called the "Record," or a book called the "American Lloyds Universal."
BAILTHORN & KING.

The American Lloyds Register, being the acknowledged standard of American surveys of shipping, approved by underwriters generally, and adopted by the Peruvian Government as a standard for the selection of ships to carry Guano, also by the Philadelphia Board of Underwriters and the West Indian Lloyds at Havana, &c., &c., it is important for owners to have their vessels surveyed and classed in its "Register." Having competent surveyors throughout the State of Maine, I am prepared to order or make surveys personally, of those apply, and to grant certificates under the "Standard Rules" issued by the Board. Also parties can be supplied with copies of the American Lloyds Register, for 1871, by sending their orders to me at the National Insurance Company, Bangor.

FRENCH
FIRE-PROOF
CAMP CHIMNEYS,
Again commence, where and now for the first time offered to the public, possess all the essentials of a best-resisting Chimney. They are well made, of a superior quality of glaze, each one finished smoothly at the bottom, and being carefully annealed or tempered, will not break from the most intense heat of a lamp flame.
A trial of their merits will convince the consumer that, although costing a little more than the ordinary class of Chimneys in use, they will prove a source of much economy in the use of Kerosene, a saving of untold trouble and annoyance, and a preventative of many accidents hitherto resulting from the breakage of Chimneys upon burning Lamps.

A Safe & Profitable INVESTMENT.
First Mortgage Bonds,
To a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders, cannot be otherwise than safe. The security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successfully carrying through any work that they undertake.
THE
PENOBSCOT & KENNEBEC
RAILROAD COMPANY
Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans; the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.
So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.
The First Mortgage
Eight Per cent. Bonds
Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or $200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. Currency or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.
Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. J. P. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator; Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor, Troy, N.Y.; Hon. Caleb Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others also well known.

One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government five Per Cents, while holders of Government Shares will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds

SECRETARY DELANO IN OHIO.
Secretary Delano opened the republican campaign in Sandusky, Ohio on Thursday, in a speech devoted to an exposition of the work of a present administration in the way of collecting the revenue and reducing taxation, and in the course of which a striking contrast was drawn with what was done under Johnson's administration. The present administration found the public credit impaired by dishonesty and incapacity which pervaded the public services, the public debt rather increasing than diminishing, with a reduction of the receipts from internal taxation. How was the falling credit of the government to be repaired, its current expenses met and reduced in the face of this discouraging condition? This serious and embarrassing question could only be solved by an energetic enforcement of the laws and a faithful application of the moneys collected to the public liabilities. It was done during the first twelve months of the administration, and the receipts from internal revenue were $177,457,738, and during the first fiscal year $186,225,804, notwithstanding the reduction of the amount of receipts from internal revenue sources.
On this basis there would have been $203,225,807. The taxes on spirits during the fiscal year of 1868 of the last administration yielded only $18,000,000. During the first year of the present administration was collected and paid into the Treasury from the same source $35,000,000, and this on a reduction of 75 per cent. of the rate to be collected; thus $76,000,000, exempted from articles previously taxed, has been recovered and its loss counterbalanced by faithfully enforcing the revenue laws and honestly accounting for money collected. Observe further, that in 1868, in the last administration, the expenses of the internal revenue bureau were $8,387,798 while for the fiscal year of this administration the same expenses were reduced to $5,961,410, making the gross reduction of the cost of collecting revenue of $2,461,382

CERTAIN PROMINENT REPUBLICANS.

The views of certain gentlemen in this State with reference to the decline in business as put forth in the correspondence of the Boston Post, have been heralded in the columns of the democratic press as the complaints of prominent Republicans, and the N Y Evening Post, commenting recently upon these interviews warns the Republicans of Maine that if they do not set down such men as Messrs H Osborn White and Carter who forced into another party" there will be little left to be the judge of his own political faith as to which neither party is likely to be the best declaration of allegiance but when gentlemen are spoken of as prominent" Republicans or Democrats in their opinions are thus put in a certain representative character is implied to them which makes it legitimate for those who may doubt the propriety of their expressions to inquire how far they may be justly cited as prominent" members of the party A recent remark in the Portsmouth (N H) Chronicle, expresses a natural conclusion upon this point in saying that it has little faith in that particular kind of prominent Republicans' that always seek to advise the party through opposition organs," and it may be that the N Y Post is more familiar with the political antecedents of the gentlemen named would admit that their connection with Republicanism has not been of that conspicuous character which would render a description of the minds a serious matter. Of course the Republican party is willing to forgive any error or substance individuals may be pleased to render it, and ordinarily would apply a kind test as to the degree of earnestness manifested by those who choose such in its ranks, but when individuals are or are spoken of as representatives of party, as in the case of Mr Hubbard, it certainly seems more than just that we should read the fact that he was quite recently using his utmost exertions to destroy the Republican party in the State by heading a political revolt which was certain to promote the triumph of Democracy A person who placed in an influential public position and kept there by a party may properly be spoken as a prominent member while such relations continue But when the recipient of party honors has repudiated the counter of party principles and engaged in open warfare upon the party which created him he would hardly be entitled to the presumption of such a term in the application Were this otherwise, the opinions of such gentlemen as announced as those of prominent Republicans, we imagine that no claim had been put forward without their knowledge or the correctness of their convictions or propriety It would seem probable that if views such as they declare to express as public sentiments would have found a channel more than in one Democratic newspaper publication of this sort especially as the journals of our party have generously treated all communications on this subject as the numerous and voluminous epistles published in Mr Hubbard will testify and which show what those journals would do if they opposed in behalf of the shipping interests a Democratic paper as has opponent it is reasonable to suppose that he has intended to be regarded as speaking in the character of a prominent Republican" In view of this substance of sanction by the Republican party the complaints urged in the interviews sink to the level of the ordinary factious clamor of the opposition Starting with the extravagantly false assumption that the decline in ship building is working misery and ruin to the State, the actual causes of the change are persistently misunderstood and the remedies suggested are as illogical as the distribution of responsibility is unwarranted The decrease in the demand for vessels is entirely ignored, and the greatest stress is laid upon the increased cost of material, as if every interest in the country was not obliged to meet the same difficulty Mr Hubbard does admit that a sluggish condition of commerce" has something to do with the depression, but returning to his hobby he finds a cure for all the trouble in a revenue tariff. It is doubtful if these gentlemen consider that when all the materials for building a ship are admitted free, some radical people may demand the right to purchase the ships themselves in a cheaper market, and that when they denounce "protection," they rail at that which built up the commerce of the past and which is the only barrier now standing between our builders and annihilating competition with the cheap labor and partiality and subsidized building establishments of Great Britain."

If the duties fall with unequal weight upon the shipping interests, a demonstration of the facts will secure a just revision, but when it is asked that the tariff be removed from the materials used in this branch of business, it is a demand for protection and nothing else. None of these complainants believe in abstract free trade, and so long as duties are placed upon materials used by others, they must see that exemption to a class is protection of the strongest kind. The contradictory character of these complaints is plainly exhibited in Mr Hubborn's statement, where in one place he declares that a protective tariff has worked the ruin of his chief and in another that the great trouble is "the want of friendly legislation such as the shipwrights of England enjoy" and again, where he asserts that our shipbuilding is utterly prostrated and then follows with the contradicting remark "For four years we were destroying ins ead of producing, which materially lessened our business But this gap we have very nearly filled, and there is a very fair demand for ships"

The heavy subsidies and direct grants of Government aid by which Great Britain has built up the immense private establishments that are now enabled to defy competition, would be regarded in this country as a protective policy and that is in fact what the ship builders want We have advocated and our Republican Congressmen have labored to obtain some such direct encouragement for our own commerce, and the measures framed to meet the views of those interested in the business met their stoutest opposition at the hands of Democrats Whether our ship-builders can reasonably look to the Democrats for the assistance which they require, they can decide for themselves, but we do not imagine that Mr. Hubborn's credentials as an officer of their association entitle him to represent politically the manly and earnest Republicans connected with it

As we have previously intimated, the only importance attaching to these conversations between a pretty and witty and sundry self satisfied but politically demoralized individuals, arises from the fact that they are quoted by journals in opposition to the party standing on the plank of standing on the platform victims to Perce's feminine diplomacy We should think it highly reprehensible for Mr Hubborn to "use himself up to any party and climb stand by and see his State destroyed," and Mr James R Doolittle, recently nominated by the Democrats in Wisconsin, furnishes him an example and a hopeful inspiration for the severing of any connections which may be uncomfortable The great body of our working people, however whether merchants, mechanics or builders, will seek the remedies from other hands than those which are now appealing these prominent Republicans," failing to discover the inducement to aid a political party to whose influence in the past we owe all our present burdens and whose promises to do better in the future are repudiated in advance by the most powerful portion of its members

YELLOW FEVER IN CHARLESTON, S C The Medical Society of Charleston S C, in view of the exaggerated reports with reference to the yellow fever in that city, resolved on Friday night to make the following official publication —"Yellow fever of a mild type does exist in Charleston, and is mainly in one neighborhood The first case dated from July 27, and since then there have been perhaps 35 cases, 9 of which were fatal But the disease does not seem of a character disposed to spread rapidly or widely Different views of opinion exist in the profession as to the probable spread of it The Board of Health announce, this morning, that the number of cases reported since Aug 23, indicate that the disease is assuming an epidemic form."

A telegram from the mayor of Charleston Saturday morning, says that the yellow fever is not at that city, and the Board of Health think it has assumed an epidemic form Throughtrains have been discontinued between Wilmington and Charleston and passengers are now changing cars at Florence. Sleeping cars are not allowed to run between the two cities The authorities and citizens are bending all their energies towards improving the sanitary condition of the city.

THE LOST ON THE LODONA The steamship Lodona wrecked on the coast of Florida, had on board thirty four persons, of whom Lewis Wolf, who brought the news, was picked up and is saved, also Stevens and Trides the 1st and 2d mates, Schofield and Gillespie, 1st and 2d engineers, one fireman, four seamen the head cook and little Charley Hovey, the captain's son, twelve in all. Capt Hovey, the mates Stevens and Trides, and Purser Morgan, were all residents of Essex County, Mass Capt Hovey was about 60 years old and a veteran among the captains sailing out of New York. He leaves a wife and seven children at Essex, Mass He was formerly commander of a London packet ship Towards the close of the war he built a mansion near Essex, and was about to retire from sea faring life, but was reduced to comparative poverty by the burning of his vessel at sea by the Confederate cruiser Alabama. No particulars have been received, but it is supposed the Lodona was wrecked in the gale of the 16th.

YELLOW FEVER IN NORTH CAROLINA — Very gloomy but reliable reports come from nearly all the counties in Eastern North Carolina of great damage to the cotton crop from rust and much alarm prevails among the planters The prospects which were good a few weeks ago, are now very unfavorable, especially in the counties of Wayne, Duplin, Lenoir Green, Johnston, Wilson and Pitt, where the drouth and rust will necessarily cut the crop short one third Similar accounts are given by gentlemen who recently passed through the more western counties

SAN DOMINGO Dr S G Howe of Boston has published a letter in reply to recent articles on San Domingo, stating that the Commissioners made the investigation of Santo Domingo honestly, earnestly and thoroughly Dr How complains because the clamor of party drowned the voice of humanity and rendered the report of the Commissioners still-born and defends the administration for its maintenance of a naval force in Dominican waters. The letter closes with the earnest hope that Santo Domingo may be saved from becoming a colony of any foreign government and that its inhabitants may be saved from civil war and subjugation by the Factions until such time as the sober second thought of our people shall grant their prayer for the protection of our laws and institutions.

ANOTHER RAILROAD SLAUGHTER.

Horrible Accident on the Eastern R. R.

A CAR CROWDED WITH PASSENGERS TELESCOPED BY A LOCOMOTIVE.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.

A LARGE NUMBER MAIMED AND SCALDED.

Full Particulars of the Appaling Disaster.

LIST OF THE DEAD AND WOUNDED.

FIRST DISPATCH.

BOSTON, Aug. 26.

The night express train for Bangor which left this city at 5 o'clock this evening, ran into the rear end of the accommodation train for Beverly, at Revere station, killing and wounding a large number. Full particulars not yet received.

SECOND DESPATCH.

BOSTON, Aug. 27

The appalling railroad slaughter at Revere last night causes

INTENSE EXCITEMENT

today, and large crowds have visited the scene of the disaster. The railroad officials have cleared away the debris and ruins, and the road is in running order again. At the time of the collision, the accommodation train for Beverly had its red signal-lights behind, and the red signal was hoisted at the head of the signal-post for the express to stop, and which it did at Everett; but subsequently proceeded. It was

UNDER FULL HEADWAY,

when near Revere station the engineer, evidently not being aware of the proximity of the Beverly train until he discovered it at a distance of perhaps 60 rods. He then whistled "down brakes", but not soon enough to avert the calamity. Some of those in the rear part of the accommodation train heard the ominous whistle, but too late to escape. On came the express train at great velocity and the engine struck the rear car full in the centre, and forced its way

IN TELESCOPE FASHION,

two-thirds of the length of the car. The smoke stack was instantly knocked off and the boiler penetrated clear to the distance named into the rear car, the rear part of the latter being

SMASHED INTO A THOUSAND SPLINTERS,

the debris being thrown out on either side of the engine's tender. Of the rear half of the the car not a fragment as big as a house window could be found. The fore part of the engine was its pistons and rods being broken short off. The car was every seat being occupied, and many standing in the aisle. In among these the locomotive rushed quick as a flash, just as the Beverly train had started, in the most frightful manner. But this was not the only and perhaps not the worst visitor the unfortunate passengers had. Simultaneously with the collision the head cap of the boiler was broken, and in an instant the wretched sufferers were and deluged with boiling water, which brought instant death to many of the wounded, and will prove fatal to others, who had probably not been otherwise seriously injured. The lamps spilled their contents and the fire here, if any, was undoubtedly extinguished by the water and steam.

LITERALLY DEMOLISHED,

CROWDED WITH PEOPLE

MANGLING AND KILLING

SHROUDED IN A CLOUD OF HISSING STEAM,

Although the Beverly train was just moving when the collision took place, this motion did not prevent injury to the cars in front of the last one. The coupling between the two rear cars broke and the platforms of all of them were the smoking car overlapping the baggage car and rods and timbers were inextricably mixed and interwoven. Fortunately the entanglement was not so great but that the passengers succeeded in getting out quite easily. Happy was it for them that they did so, for the kerosene oil

JAMMED UP TOGETHER,

LAMPS WERE THUS

and their contents spilled upon the upholstery and in an instant the smoking car was

IN A BLAZE

The flames travelled with great speed from one car to another, until 3 of them were embraced in fiery folds. These were subsequently moved up the track half a dozen rods and allowed to burn until there was nothing left for fire to feed upon. Any effort to extinguish them was prevented and the flames were useful in in the rear, and facilitate the services for the wounded. The work of rescuing victims was at once commenced, and being soon furnished from Chelsea, Charlestown, and, at a late hour, from Boston, including surgeons and physicians. The Four Hose Company just returned from an excursion to Providence, were promptly on the ground, having seen the burning cars.

LIGHTING UP THE DREADFUL SCENE

THE WRECK.

Dozens of poor creatures were jammed with wood and iron work, and could not get out.—The axe was applied vigorously and soon a rope was applied to the sides of the car and all the remaining frame-work was pulled asunder.

THE DEAD AND MANGLED BODIES were taken out carefully and speedily, and placed on the platform or in the depot. Some were pierced with splinters, some had arms and legs broken, while others were mangled beyond recognition. Many, in fact the majority, of the dead were apparently free from bruises, but the

FEATURES, SKIN AND DEATHLY PALLOR

which overspread the flesh told plainly that steam and scalding water had been frightful and effective agents of death.

THE DEAD.

The following is a list of persons killed and who have died up to the present time:—

Harriet F. Shattuck, Lynn; Chas. Shattuck, Lynn, Susan F. Cheney, Lynn; Wm. Jeffreys, Lynn; E.F. Samborn, Providence, R.I., died at Marine Hospital; Ella Burns, Lynn; Ernest S. Merrill, Danvers; Hervey A. Foster, Providence; Wm. Foster, his sister; Wm. H. Emerson, Providence; Geo. W. Bancroft, firm of C. C. Farwell & Co., Peabody; Rev. S. B. Mason, D. D., Cambridgeport; Thos. F. Bancroft, firm of Purington & Bancroft, Lynn; Rev. Ezra Gannett, D. D., Boston; Aaron Erickson, Swampscott; Richard Fitzpatrick, residence unknown; F. G. Swallow, Swampscott; Wm. A. Seele, Beverly; Mrs. P. C. Josher, residence unknown; John B. Wells and Mary A. Crowley, Boston, died at Massachusetts Hospital; and two bodies unrecognized, making a total of twenty-four.

Rev. Dr. Gannett was on his way to Beverly, where he was to preach today.

THE WOUNDED

in the Massachusetts General Hospital are:

John Buckley, aged 70, Beverly, scalded face and chest; Frederick Browning, 23 Salem, hands and face; Edward Williams, 22, Lynn, face and hands; Stephen O. Thayer, Newton, face and hands; John K. Battis, 40, Salem, face and hands; Anna Foley, 20, Boston; Eliza Hatch, 25, Charlestown. In the City Hospital are:—Frederick Fitzpatrick, Cambridgeport, compound fracture of arm; Jefferson Rowe, Portsmouth, N. H., arm badly broken; Mary Ann Call, Salem, injured in chest; Gov. J. Hill, Lynn; Frank Davis, Charleston, severely injured; Frank B. Cotting, Treasurer of the Grundy Company, scalded face; Edmund B. Hall, firm of E. B. Hall & Co. scalded in face and hands; Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Jr., firm of Bailey, Jenkins & Garrison, wood dealers, scalded, not dangerously.

There are many others distributed in various places, whose names we are unable to obtain.

A CORONER'S JURY

was summoned by Dr. J. B. Forsaith of Chelsea, who viewed the bodies and adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The total number injured was between 30 and 40, most of whom are likely to recover.—The dead were removed from the scene of the accident this afternoon.

REV. DR. GANNETT

was recognized today, noon; he was killed by his chest being crushed. He was well known as the pastor of Arlington St. Church, and formerly a colleague of the late Dr. Channing, a man whose loss will be severely felt by the community.

REV. DR. MASON

of Cambridgeport, was also a man of note and greatly beloved by his congregation, [illegible] leaving a void that cannot be easily filled.

WHO BE THE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS.

Public Sentiment throws the fearful responsibility upon the conductor and engineer of the express train. The engineer escaped with bruises, by jumping from the train. The accommodation train was three-quarters of an hour late, which fact, it is said, was known to the express train managers.

MAINE NEWS.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

BELFAST, Me., Aug. 26.

The Waldo County Democratic Convention held here to-day was large and enthusiastic. Upon Treat of Frankfort presided. C. S. Fletcher of Stockton, and William E. McClellan of Belfast, were nominated for Senators; Zenas L. Downes of Swanville received the nomination for County Commissioner, and Reuben L. Keen of Montville for County Attorney; William J. Colburn of Belfast was nominated for County Treasurer.

HEAVY DEFALCATION.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 26.

John Rogers, Cashier of the Pejepscot National Bank, is said to be a defaulter to the bank in the sum of thirty thousand dollars. His bonds are ample to cover the amount.

SECOND DISPATCH.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 26.

An examination of the affairs of the Pejepscot National Bank by the Bank Commissioner shows the [illegible] amount of the Cashier's defalcation to be $36,000, and that he has kept two distinct sets of books for nearly 10 years, the only covering up his "irregularities." His bonds amount to about $25,000, and it is thought his real estate will cover the balance of his deficit. He is now under arrest. Mr. Rogers has been cashier of the Bank and also Treasurer of Bowdoin College for many years. He was a prominent church member, and one of our most highly esteemed citizens, and the announcement of his defalcation has created great excitement and surprise. Much sympathy is felt for his wife and family.

OBITUARY.

PORTLAND, Aug. 27.

Deacon Joseph Libby, a prominent resident of this city, died this noon, aged 77 years. He was for a number of years master of the High School, and had held several offices of trust.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

GREAT FIRE IN THE WEST INDIES—A CITY NEARLY DESTROYED—SIXTEEN BLOCKS CONSUMED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.

Advices from the West Indies state that a fire which recently visited Point Acaro, the capital of the island of Guadaloupe, destroyed nearly the whole town, including the bank, treasury and custom house. Sixteen blocks were consumed, and the entire northeast portion of the city known as La Petite Terre, was totally devastated. The church, court house, hospital and theatre were saved. The safes of the bank were found uninjured after the fire, but it is feared that the contents had been abstracted, and that money would be wanting for rebuilding the city.

Rear Commodore Osgood of the New York Yacht Club accepts Vice Commodore Dougan's challenge, and will race the Columbia against the Sappho thirty miles to windward, for a $1,000 cup.

Paul D. Bark-dale, editor of "Our Society," was committed to the Tombs yesterday, to await an examination for passing forged checks on glove, perfumery and cigar dealers.

Workingmen's and Trades' Union in this city have decided to have a grand parade and demonstration Sept. 12th, in favor of the eight hour law.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 26.

FINANCIAL.

The receipts of fractional currency for the week ending to-day were $492,000. The shipments of notes were $1,146,000, fractional currency $548,000. The Treasurer holds as security for National Bank circulation $36,200,000, and for public deposits $1,691,500. The Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $325,000; total for the financial year to date $23,190,-[illegible]. The amount of National Bank notes in circulation is $321,373,380. The subscriptions to the new loan reported to noon to-day were $3,810,000.

GEN. CROOK.

The War Department has no advices of the death of General Crook, and discredits the report.

THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONERSHIP.

Attorney-General Akerman, in deciding the question of a vacancy in the first deputy commissionership of Internal Revenue made by the designation of Douglass to perform the duties of Commissioner during the suspension of Pleasanton, says that the holder of an office vacates by the existence of another incompatible office, but does not vacate it by temporarily performing the duties of another office when such performance is permitted by law under the tenure of office act. Pleasanton is still Commissioner of Internal Revenue, because his term has not yet expired, and he has not been removed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Attorney-General Hoar in an opinion not yet published, dated April 17th, 1870, uses this language in relation to these acts: "The word 'suspended' imports that the person suspended is still an incumbent of the office, and that the interruption of its duties is temporary and provisional. The internal revenue act prescribes among the duties of deputy commissioners, that of acting commissioner of internal revenue in the absence of that officer." The Attorney General cites general acts of Congress that it is the duty of the deputy commissioner to act as commissioner in the absence of that officer, and also to show that that officer is performing the duties his chief cannot receive extra compensation for such service. From these citations it is apparent that the law, both as to general and in its special provisions, not only permits, but requires the deputy commissioner to act as chief commissioner in certain cases, and that he does not lose his own office by such substitution. If Mr. Douglass would have vacated the deputy commissionership by acting as commissioner in case of the absence, resignation, or death of Pleasanton, he does not vacate the office by acting as commissioner under the President's designation during the suspension of Pleasanton. The tenure of office act, April 5th, 1869, entitles him, under such designation, to the salary of Pleasanton, which he would not have received if acting under the previous statutes enacted. The act of the 30th of September, 1850, prohibits the allowance to one individual of the salaries of two different offices on account of having performed the duties thereof at the same time. The conclusion is that Douglass is still first deputy commissioner, but is entitled, as long as he performs the commissioner's duties under the President's designation, to the salary of commissioner only.

WASHINGTON Aug. 27.

Official dispatches from Captain Hall, dated Disco, July 31, report that all the ship's company of the Polaris have been in good health and spirits since leaving New York. Captain Hall failed to obtain a supply of reindeer or furs at Halstenberg, as was expected, reindeer of late years having been nearly all killed in that neighborhood, and therefore they must depend on Disco, Upper Navick and Smith's Sound for their winter furs and sledge dogs. The present season is more favorable for Arctic explorations than any other: no ice save an occasional berg between Halstenberg and Disco, and between the latter place and Upper Navick has been seen for several weeks. Gov. Elberg, at Holstenberg, has furnished Captain Hall all the aid he can give.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, August 26—7:30 P. M.

The signal officer reports, that another cyclone is movin; up the Atlantic coast, sweeping everything before it. At midnight it was raging between Savannah and Lake City, Florida. It probably will pursue the path to the west of the path of the storm of the 18th and move with increasing easterly winds for the South Atlantic coast.

FOUND.—Last night about 11 o'clock, a policeman was quietly passing by Wood's corner, when he happened to look up and perceived a dim luminous point apparently suspended in the air a short distance from the building, which at once excited his curiosity. A ladder and a lantern were procured, and upon digging into the huge mass of cobwebs, dirt and fungus suspended from a rod near the awning, it was found to contain a peculiarly shaped iron frame with panes of glass set in the sides. More dirt was cleared away, and in the centre of the frame was discovered what was once a gas-burner, from which issued a diminutive, pale and ghastly pencil of flame, which had been burning nobody knows how long, as no one has been found who remembers seeing a light there. This discovery finally settled the long disputed question whether or not a street gas-light ever burned on that corner. The probability is that there are others on other streets; and as there is a moon now, search will be made for them.

The Medway Murder Case.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

AUGUST (CRIMINAL) TERM.

Hon. Jonas Cutting, Justice, presiding.
Hon. T. B. Reed, Attorney General.
Charles P. Stetson, Esq., County Atty.

Saturday, Aug. 26th.

The Court came in at 9 o'clock, and the trial of the case State vs. Elbridge W. Reed went on from the point where left when the Court adjourned the previous afternoon.

The following evidence for the defense was introduced:—

Martha J. Roberts, of Bangor, testified that the day of the excursion from Medway to this city, she was with Mrs. Ray when she took supper, after which they went to the Boston Button store and back to the church. From there they went to the Exchange St. depot—Sadie Boynton and Harriet Sanders being with witness and Mrs. Ray—Reed was not with them.

George S. Kuceland, of Lincoln testified that he measured the hole when the body was found, last Sunday. It was 4 feet 3 inches long, a little less than 3 feet wide, and a little over 18 inches deep in the deepest place. The dirt was mostly thrown out on the down-river side; there was dirt on two sides; saw a shovel full some distance from the hole and found one of the original sods not with the rest of the dirt. Tried the dirt with my feet and saw Mr. McCrillis try it by stamping; it made no impression. The sides of the hole are not perpendicular but slanting.

Asa Smith, of Mattawamkeag, testified that he examined the hole when the body was found, last June. The dirt was thrown out on the side opposite Ray's house; there was a little at the foot; saw more on the side opposite; the land is hard fores land. A path runs up to the foot of the hole and passes on across the island. The hole is right in the woods in a lonesome place.

Winn Reed, 12 years old, father of the prisoner, testified:—I remember the night of the reading meeting and that my son Timothy's family went. At sundown that night Elbridge went across the river after a bunch of shingles, leaving no one on the point but me and my wife. Elbridge came home between 7 and 8 o'clock; I was in bed and my wife was preparing to retire; Elbridge came into the room after some liniment for his hand. He dug potatoes Tuesday and Wednesday. He got up soon after 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, ate breakfast with us and went up to Hathaway's after some horse collars; he was gone about an hour and John came home with him.

Elbridge W. Reed, the prisoner, was sworn and took the stand. He testified as follows:—

Am 32 years old; was born and have always lived in Medway. I had nothing to do with the murder of John Ray and know nothing about it. Remember the night of the reading meeting. On Tuesday that day, I dug potatoes part of the day and fixed my cellar so to put them in. Reed and Reuben Boynton were an old pair of boots while at our house; he got them out of the shed; they had formerly been worn by me; but I had not worn them for two or three months before that, as they were worn pretty bad and I had laid them by. I was wearing a pair of my father's boots, number 11's, that time. I think these boots of mine were 9's. Don't recollect how long Boynton wore them. I put father's boots on in driving time; were good boots when I put them on. I did not take the boots from the Boynton boy, but I wore them after my trial; after the Boynton boy left my place. Recollect of my stealing a pair of boots; while in the tavern after the body was found they are the ones I have on my feet; they are 8's. Tuesday night at 6 o'clock I left my father's house and went across the East Branch on my raft; went to Benj. Fogg's to buy a bunch of shingles for Mr. Parsons, who sent for them night before; they were to pay for a bunch I borrowed of him a year before. Paid Mr. Fisk 50 cents for them; took them on my shoulder and carried them away; his house is half or three-quarters of a mile from ours by the road. I carried the shingles to Mr. Parsons', and then went down to the cow yard of Fisk's hotel where Mr. Morse was milking a cow; had some conversation with him; it was quite duskish at that time. From there I went home. Noticed the clock as I went in; it was 35 minutes past 7. Father was abed; mother was getting ready to go to bed; went into her room, got a bottle of liniment, put some on my hand and set the bottle on the table. Left my frock and went down stairs and went to bed; staid in my room all night. Heard my mother call me in the morning; got up; it was about 5 o'clock; ate breakfast; went to Hathaway's to borrow a horse-collar; the way to borrow a horse-collar; it was past 6 when I started. Did not take a horse-collar, as they were as poor as mine; John Hathaway came down with me. It went up the main road that goes by the East Branch and came back the same way; Ray's house is on the down river side of the river. The road is a woods road; the trees have been cut out and a very few bridges made over the holes. I dug potatoes that Wednesday. When I was bringing the shingles I fell over some logs and hurt my hand. Hurt my hand 10 or 15 years before this, and have been subject to having that old pain with it. Had trouble with a man 10 or 15 years ago; he followed me round; I kept out of his way as long as I could, and then I struck him; that is the way I injured my hand. Did not think I hurt my hand when I was at the bars, but going across the river I saw it was swelling. Dug potatoes Thursday. Was not across the river Wednesday night; think I went across Thursday night to order a pair of boots made at Mr. Jones'; might have been gone two or three hours; may be more. First heard Ray was missing some time the last of the week, and heard that I was suspected of murdering him. The next Monday I went to Mattawamkeag to pay some money my brother and I owed a man; it was due before I paid it.—Did not go to search for Ray.—Recollect the day the body was found; could not tell the names of the people that came to our house; there were a dozen, men; I was watering my horse; started down the lane and saw them. Heard some one say "Here he is." Met them in the lane; supposed they had come to arrest me for the murder of Ray. As soon as they got me to the hotel they held me under keepers; was there a day and a half or two days before I was tried. Was tried before Elder French and was discharged. Was arrested again the very last of April and committed to Jail for trial. Did not know of the existence of the hole on the Island; never saw it. The last time I was on the Island I helped my uncle Loyal Lyndon stack some hay one forenoon sometime the first of August, 1870. Did not drag or transport, nor help transport John Ray on to the Island; never knew he was carried there. Recollect hauling stuff for Fowler in May, and of the Butler boy being at our house. Never employed him. Have left there before I hauled the stuff and did not help me in preparing the team. Frank Fowler went with me the first load I hauled. He walked to the edge of the field, 50 to 75 rods, and then got on and rode with me to Boynton's house; no one else was with me. When we arrived, we found Mrs. Ray there. I carried up a load the second day; no one went with me that day. Remember having some trouble with Perry about his telling stories about me. He told that he caught me in bed with Ray's wife; that was what I struck him for; told him so at the time. Perry was not there till it was all over. Her testimony here yesterday was not the truth; I never made such talk to anybody as she testified to. Remember being in Bangor on the excursion; believe Mrs. Ray was here; was not alone with her any time during that day; was not in her company that day except going up in the cars. On the night of the dance [Reference to testimony on Friday] I set Mrs. Ray across the river, at the request of her husband; when she got across she started towards her home. I went home. Never saw Mrs. Perry when Mrs. Ray and I were together alone. Do not recollect of having any conversation with Buswell as he has testified.

In the cross-examination by the Attorney-General, prisoner testified that he threw the boots aside because they were worn out. Cannot say whether my feet were wet the morning I went up to Hathaway's; don't remember that the Hathaway boy asked me something about wet boots. I could not tell how deep the water is across from Ray's; was gone, Wednesday. The children asked to come to the house; in the summer when that morning where he was. That night I there is a drouth, a man could wade across with his boots on without wetting his feet; know that because I have been there. Cannot tell how many times I had been over there that season; might possibly have been over there three times. From the island to the Hathaway side, the water is quite shoal at that season; think a man could pick his way across without wetting his feet. Could not tell how long before that night I had seen Mrs. Ray, nor how long after the reading school I saw her, but think sooner than three weeks. Do not recollect her telling me that Ray was missing; think I had some conversation with her about it some time afterwards. Did not know the search was to be made till I came back from Mattawamkeag, that Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. My reason for not joining the search was because I supposed they thought I was the man that committed the crime and did not expect me to search. I was on friendly terms with Ray saw him last on Monday, in Mr. Hayford's store. Did not get a horse-collar at Hathaway's because they were good for nothing and were not considered so; whether they had been used since or not; saw them this spring and they were hanging in the same place. Won't say that I ever heard of the reading meeting; do not say that I did not. Told Elder Rae I hurt my hand getting over the bars; did not tell him I hurt it while hunting for a cow. Cannot tell where the boots are that Reuben had on; I left them at home when I went away. Do not remember of father's having but one pair of boots for five years. Went across the East Branch the morning I went to Hathaway's; do not know whether I went my boots or not. Where the water was an inch deep. I would have got my feet wet; do not think the boots were wet up on the legs at all; might have wet them on the road. Might have said I wet them on the road. The road was very muddy sometimes; it was pretty dry at that time; there was always water in that road any time. I think my boots were wet, for the grass was wet, and a man could not get along without getting them wet. Remember the Hathaway boy said we both had old boots and ought to have new ones. Don't recollect whether my boots were wet or not. Don't recollect of stating to anyone about getting my boots wet on the road. Recollect of being at Wm. Boynton's while Mrs. Ray was living there; do not recollect of Mrs. Boynton's ever coming out and finding me standing by the house; do not recollect of coming up and staying with Mrs. Ray after Mrs. Boynton had gone to bed. Heard Mrs. Wm. Boynton's testimony; do not seem to recollect of that occurrence; do not think I can recall it; do not know of any occasion I had to go up there to see her. Think Mr. Hayford first told me Ray's body was found. Cannot recollect whether he said the body was found or Ray was found. I won't be positive whether or no I have said I heard it first from my mother. First heard of it from Mr. Hayford at home on my own premises. I have not said I first heard of it from my mother. Do not remember the reply I made to Mr. Hayford. Have always known Mrs. Ray since I was a boy. Don't think I ever told Wm. Boynton I visited her; can't recollect any such talk; will not say that I did not. Do not think I got an axe at Hayford & Webster's store the night I got the shingles; don't remember whether I did or not; do not know that I had any use for an axe; might have seen the clerk at the store, but I do not recollect it.

Mrs. Ray lived with her father and mother before she went to live in the log house, where she lived when Ray was missing; before that she lived about a mile and a half below Medway. Do not remember when she separated from her husband. I did not advise her to; but think I let my uncle Nahum live there by my consent after Nahum and the time has arrived when the interests of the city and the public demand it the three bridges, forming as they do a part of the largest wooden thoroughfares of the city, should be constructed of permanent materials, and in the reconstruction, stone and iron should be used as far as practicable, in the place of wood.

In the last few years this city has expended a very large amount of money for the construction of wooden bridges, and today we have little or nothing, but a mass of rotten wood to show for it, and we believe that half the amount in the same time has been expended in permanent work of stone, the city might today have been provided with good substantial bridges that the citizens would be proud of. The idea of economy in constructing wooden bridges is delusive. It is true that in the first construction of wood is the cheapest, but at the end of twenty years, the expense and repairs upon wood will equal the cost of stone, and then when the wooden bridge is worthless, the stone bridge is valuable to which first constructed. And then again there is no inconvenience to the public from the frequency of repairs, so often becoming necessary and doing such a use in the vicinity of the bridges, which although a great work to the credit of permanent bridges structures.

The committee have not had time to procure all the information necessary to give an accurate estimate of the cost of constructing the bridges, but give an estimate based upon such data as they have been able to obtain.

The bowstring bridge, for the construction of the western abutment at the head of stone, will require 1322 yards of masonry at an estimated cost of $16,500 for the two; and the Kenduskeag Central Bridge, figuring from the same basis, for stone foundations and piers with cost $21,000. The Franklin Bridge, upon the same basis will cost $16,000. The Bridge at Morses' Mills for three stone piers will cost $8,000. Bridge on McQuesten Mills for stone abutments and pier will cost $4,000.

For top work of wood at Central Bridge $1,500. For top work of wood at Franklin Bridge $1,000. For top work of wood at Morses' Mill Bridge $1,000. For top work of wood at McQuesten Bridge $1,000. Making a total cost of constructing five bridges of $8,500, which with other incidental expenses not including this estimate would make it necessary to raise $70,000.

If this sum (or such other as may be deemed necessary,) is to be immediately raised for the purpose of reconstructing Bridges, your committee would recommend that the money be raised by a loan to be called the Bridge Loan, made payable at such time in the future as the City Council believe the finance of the city will warrant.

To complete the construction of the above named bridges, should the City Council deem it best to adopt the recommendation of the committee, they would further recommend that the Central and Franklin Bridges be at once temporar
